After the holidays, and the hours of staying awake and preparing for the upcoming IGCSE exams in May and June, we have finally entered into a new year. At the beginning of this new year, we sure have long lists of resolutions that we promise to fulfill as the year goes by. Keeping in mind, the hard work that all students have been putting in the resolution we make for our studies should be- "Study harder, learn harder and aim higher". The students should remember that stressing and freaking out before any exams will not help and wont get you anywhere. Instead what should be done is stay cool and calm and "SUCCESS" will definitely come your way.

We hope you had a wonderful Christmas and ACE Academy would like to take this opportunity to wish all the parents, teachers and students a "Happy New Year".

MIT jumps to #1 spot in 2014 QS World University Rankings!
